ANOTHER YEAR IN THE DENISON

TRADITION

. . . a denison tradition

Among the many traditions on a college campus may be found some which pertain to the actual location of the college itself. Is the college noted for the beauty of its campus or does it just have the usual college look? Denison may justly be proud of its appearance, for its beauty is outstanding among the many college campuses throughout the country. It would seem fitting that a book depicting the many traditions of Denison should be prefaced by one of the attractive views which one may see when crossing the academic quadrangle.

The mon or womon entering Denison finds himself confronted with a new life. A type of life which is different than onything which he has experienced before. He must now learn the ways of the school. He must discover what is expected of him sociolly as well as ocodemically. He will receive from his college coreer just what he puts into it. Among the many things which will enhance his college days, one of the most important is tradition.

on the denison

university campus ...

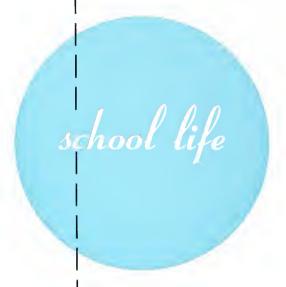

Tradition at Denison extends into every phase of college life. As we study or play or engage in other types of activity, tradition is always evident, playing its part in the things which we do.

Passing through Denison on a four year excursion into the realms of knowledge and tradition is an experience which we will never forget.

We enter as adolescents and emerge as men and women.

Traditionally Denison is a friendly school. Many visitors have left our campus impressed with the friendly "hello" which they received from passing students. Here fraternity and sorority affiliation is surpassed by this spirit, welding students and faculty into one closely knit group. Often, as the shadows lengthen in the afternoon the students gather on the quadrangle to discuss the happenings of the day.

Tradition

When Greek meets Greek with such evident and pleasant stress upon the social phase of college life. Denison University becomes noted for its potential match making. Whether it's in a car on the Hill, under a starry sky, or on the Senior Bench between classes, pinplanting must go on.

Nature lovers are inspired by the beautiful surroundings of their outside classes. Suntans and burns are reminiscent of the occasion, as are the girls' outbursts caused by the bugs. Nothing could be lovelier than a pretty day, an English book, and an enthusiastic group of students.

On The Campus

All-School dances play an important part in Denison Campus life. Outstanding among these dances is the Winter Carnival. Held in February—the snowiest time of the year for Granville—the dance usually has nothing but rain to give it the winter spirit. In spite of the weather, however, the Denison gang turns out in best form for the affair. No one could go wrong with the best in student entertainment and a beautiful queen to reign over them, could they?

Freshmen no longer receive the expected ride up the Drag, for rushing is over and they must keep in training for those fraternity chores. All upper classmen can verify the fact that every Denison student has a good set of leg muscles before graduation.

Post-rushing

Library Study

One of the traditions on any college campus is the tremendous amount of serious study necessary to achievement in scholastic endeavor. One might wonder at the scene of diligent preparation unfolding before his eyes were he to stray into Doane Library on a cold winter's night.

As the typical Denison student leaves his place of residence on a cool, crisp morning, he feels the strain and stress of the previous evening's labors pressing upon him. Chances are, before the morning is over, he will succumb to the fragrant aroma of hot coffee and find himself lounging in the Union. Rejuvenated by this time-tested brew, he will finish the day wide awake and alert. (That's what coffee's supposed to do, isn't it?)

Coffee At The Union

Bonds Of Friendship

The Bonds of Friendship program, formerly the March of Dollars, is the way Denison makes an effort to share in the life of the world. We are sponsoring foreign students here at Denison from seven different countries, and many ideas are exchanged by the foreign and American students at meetings held throughout the year. For the Bonds of Friendship auction, Dr. and Mrs. Crocker give a superb waffle supper to the highest bidder. These two lucky people are entertained by the musical ability of the Crocker family as well as by their good food. The exchange dinner brought closer together the lads and lasses in order to strengthen the great tradition of the Denison family.

Campus Scenes

Many a weary night has been spent by the typical Denison student watching a basketball game in the Wigwam. Were it not for the uncomfortable seats, the obstructed view, and the leaky roof it might be possible to leave the Wigwam in fairly good shape without the usual cramps, pneumonia and clostraphobia. However, it seems that the old place was beyond repair so they decided to build a new field house. Everyone is looking forward to the first basketball game in the new Physical Education Center.

As the winter winds begin to howl and the mercury drops to freezing, fraternity house dorms begin to feel more like the inside of an igloo than a modern home. Goaded on by the more adventurous brothers, those not so rugged are forced to don varying garbs in order to cope with sub-zero temperatures.

This year marked the beginning of a new Denison tradition which we all hope will be perpetuated on down through the years. An all-school dinner was held in the Wigwam, followed by a very entertaining program which proved to be a success from all angles.

The "Sig Bloody Bucket" party provides an outlet for all who have a clever idea for costume or decoration. After an evening of dancing and mad revelry the men leave to allow the women to spend the night in the fraternity house.

Fraternity and sorority dances and parties add much to the social life of the Denison student body. In addition to the three fraternity and two sorority sponsored dances each year, the different social groups sponsor many additional parties. Among these parties may be found themes ranging from "Children's Party" through "Military Ball" and "Fiji Weekend" to "Pig Dinner." A student's year would not be complete had he not taken the part of Arab, Pirate, Knight or some other interesting type of person at some fraternity or sorority social function.

Beachcombers, hula dancers, cannibals and many ather characters may be seen at the "Fiji Weekend" party. Amid apprapriate decorations and a trapical maan the party pragresses, with dancing, and entertainment until the time comes far the men to leave the house ta the wamen for the night.

Any wauld be generals, admirals, camp fallowers, ar prisoners of war can satisfy any of their inert desires at the "Military Ball." Once a year this assemblage of military derelicts takes place in the Beta Hause, culminating, as usual, in the men being turned aut to sleep an the streets while the wamen take over the house.

A pep-rally, football game, dance, fraternity floats, sorority house decorations, and a generous helping of Denison's alumni, all make Homecoming an important day in the year of a Denison student.

If talking about a day is any indication of its importance or if rumors about a day make it outstanding then "D Day" holds no second in the line up of Denison's days to remember. The man or woman on "the inside" would have no trouble putting himself through school with the bets he might collect from those who have the day for "D Day" all figured out.

Days To Remember

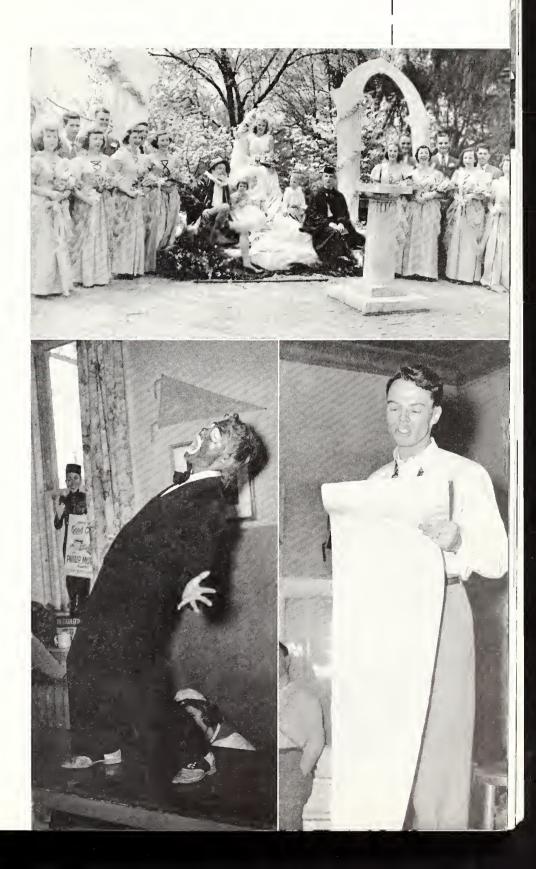

Days to remember are very numerous at Denison. Every day seems to hold something by which it remains outstanding in our minds. Maybe it was a day in which we got a particularly high mark on a test, a day on which we had a famous man speak to us in Swasey, or maybe it was just a particularly beautiful day, but whatever the reason we remember it as something special.

There are also days at Denison which are important, not only to students but to faculty, friends and alumni. These days are planned by the students to create an interest in Denison and to entertain those who have attended our school in the past. These days and occasions have, throughout the years, become traditions on the Denison campus, days which we will always remember.

At Denison

As the warm weather comes to the Licking Hills and the Dogwood bursts into bloom preparations to greet the Queen of May begin to shape up. A complete celebration featuring jesters, monks, towncriers, players and all the trimmings is held on the South Plaza, a celebration fit for the Queen of May.

As the time for the Seniors to graduate grows near, they begin to grow restless and the prospect of going to school seems rather unbearable. Consequently once each year the Seniors revolt and run rampant over faculty and undergraduates, leaving studying and usual college decorum behind.

As the procession of Graduates wends its way down Chapel Walk to Swasey Chapel one might think, "Ah, what a place for a camera salesman."

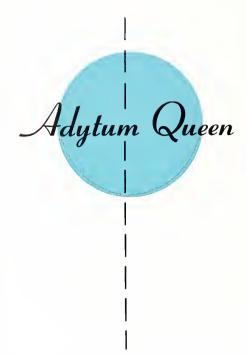

When the time of year rolls around that means the Seniors are graduating everyone feels a little tinge of sadness for he knows that next year just couldn't possibly be the same with all those wonderful people gone. As the years pass on though, classes leave and Denison is just as great as ever so maybe we should feels no pangs of remorse at their leaving and just wish them the best of luck in everything that they do.

It has been traditional that the Seniors and their parents be invited to a reception at Prexy's house. Here, they may say good-bye to Dr. Brown and Mrs.
Brown as well as seeing their favorite faculty member for the last time as an undergraduate student.

Proud father, enthusiastic mother, smiling daughter, camera and tape measure, a scene which has been repeated a dozen times at every Denison Commencement for years.

It's all over now except for the shouting, or should we say packing. "The truck?" what, would you expect, they've been accumulating the stuff for four years now.

The problem of choosing someone to act as a judge in picking the Adytum Queen has always been a problem and not until this year has any staff succeeded in finding the perfect man for this job. This man must have an excellent knowledge of and interest in women, he must understand what other men like in women, he must be a casanova himself and above all he should be of the proper type which will throw himself into his work with gusto. After a nationwide poll of such people as Errol Flynn, Tommy Manville and Barry Fitzgerald we came upon the name Fearless Fosdick. Immediately sensing this man's faculty for the job he was contacted and his acceptance of the appointment secured. With fearless persistance and his motto, "Cherchez la femme" on his lips he chose Miss Sylvia Straton as Adytum Queen for 1950.

A member of the faculty inadvertently detained, may arrive at his class room five minutes and one second after the hour only to find that all of his students are gone.

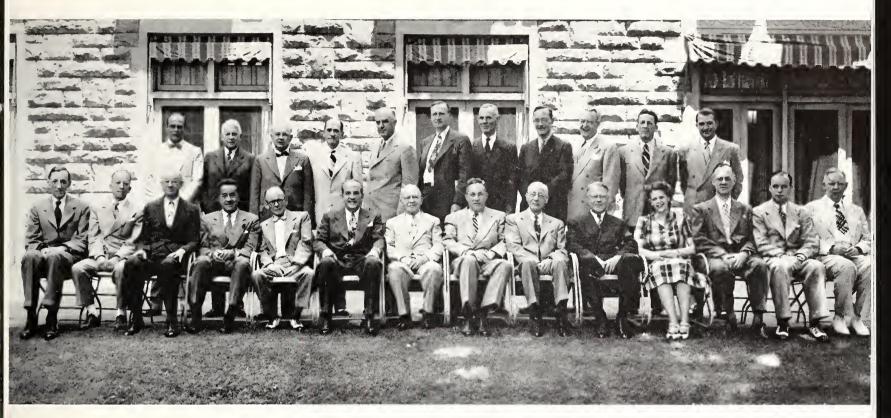

The constant race against time between faculty and students goes on during the whole school year as one strives to teach more and the other strives to learn less.

Denison Faculty and Students comprise, not only an institution for learning in the classroom, but a family. This close relationship among all those connected with the school helps to make college days and college memories more enjoyable. This is a tradition of which we are very proud.

Board of Trustees

I doubt if any college in the country has a stronger, finer, harder-working Board of Trustees than Denison University. To them the faculty, students, and alumni of the college owe a debt of great gratitude. These men and women receive no compensation; they are required to pay their own travel expense in attending meetings; and they are constantly besieged for contributions to the various needs of the college.

One of the sources of strength among the Denison Trustees is the committee organization of the Board. In addition to the concern for the total welfare of the college, there is a particular interest for nearly every member of the Board—an aspect of the college which demands his special attention. Some of the Board are deeply concerned with the problem of the financial security of Denison; others with the standards of teaching and our academic program. Still others have given themselves primarily to the problems of buildings and grounds, while there are several who are following with deep interest the development of our religious program or the sturdiness of our fraternity life.

Even in so short a resume of Trustee activities as this, mention must be made of two names: G. Herbert Shorney, who retires this year as Chairman of the Board after a short but very successful term of office; and Franklin G. Smith, Honorary Chairman of the Board, who through the thirty-five years of his membership has at all times given generously of himself and his possessions for the continual strengthening of Denison.

Kenneth I. Brown.

Denison's President

It is with deep regret that we say good-bye to Dr. Kenneth I. Brown. During Dr. Brown's administration, Denison has grown and prospered until it now stands as one of the Nation's top small colleges. May Denison continue to reap the harvest which Dr. Brown has sown and may he continue to serve on a larger scale as he did in Granville.

Beloved by all, may Dr. Wiley's future life be as full as the lives of the people who have known him in the past.

The tradition of the Senior Bench has been an integral part of Denison campus life for a long time. Each year the graduating class strives to protect its exclusive right to use the bench from the overly ambitious freshmen. Invariably, of course, the more worldly seniors win out. A "D" Man always gets his man.

The highlight of one's junior year at Denison is, of course, The Junior Prom, an all-school dance featuring the music of one of the Country's top name bands. Traditionally, some lucky girl is chosen Queen of the Junior Prom and reigns over the dance that evening. This year's Queen was Miss Jean Gillies of Evanston Illinois. President of the junior class, Jack Boyer.

The "Mighty Sophomore" is a tradition on any campus. Having completed his freshman year the sophomore feels as though there was little knowledge left which he did not have in his grasp. This feeling of genius has led many an overconfident sophomore down the road to ruin. Thus may be explained that second year disease which we all know as the "Sophomore Slump".

A freshman may find his first year at Denison very easy, at least he may think so until he is confronted with his first big project, that of the freshmen term paper. After many grueling hours in the library and many more back at his room his opinion of the whole situation probably will have changed somewhat.

Denison has long been proud of its many organizations and special interest groups which are designed to provide extra-curricular activities for all her students.

Among these many organizations, probably the one which has held student interest the most and mystified the administration to the greatest extent, has been the "Wingless Angels." This group of unknown students has as its motto, "Our purpose is to right the wrongs of Denison." Founded in 1906 this group has carried out its pledge with uncanny ardour and never failing devotion. Reward: One semester of "A's" to anyone providing information leading to the capture of a "Wingless Angel."

Seoted: Neoth, Kniffen, Echols Stonding: Offenheiser, Steckle

The Denison Campus Government Associotion was under the leadership of its six elected officers which form the Executive Council. These officers were James Steckel and Nancy Kniffin, co-presidents; Virginia Offenheiser and Duane Potterson, co-vice-presidents; Nancy Lee Echals, Chairman of Women's Judicial Council; and Joseph Neath, Chairman of Men's Judicial Council.

Denison Campus Government Association

At the beginning of the yeor, at the plonning conference of the Student-Foculty Council and the Senote, suggestions were mode for the yeor. The oll-school trek to the site of the first college building was one of the first projects to be fulfilled. The oll-school dinner at the Wigwam was one of the high spots of the spring program. The Displaced Persons Program continued under the auspices of the Senote which made arrangements for three displaced students to live and study at Denison for the year. The Denison Album of records, which contained fovorite Denison songs sung by the musical clubs on compus, were ready for purchase in the spring. Perhaps one of the biggest projects of the year was the direction of the compus compaign for the Denison Development Program. Over $5000 was collected from the student body to be given to the fund.

Adytum

The Adytum staff this year has tried to present to you a book containing not only the students, faculty, organizations, sports, etc., but a book depicting the lighter side of Denison campus life. We have chosen, as a medium for bringing all this to you, the theme of "Traditions on the Denison Campus." These traditions are deeply entrenched in the lives of all who have ever attended Denison, and while we have treated many of these traditions lightly, it has not been to tear them down but merely to present them in an interesting manner. It is our sincere hope that no one will be offended by this book and that all who read it will take it with a grain of salt, so to speak.

We would like to thank all those who cooperated with us in the taking of the pictures for the book, students and faculty. Also, a word of thanks is extended to the many organizations and people who assisted us with write-ups and other information necessary to the compiling of a yearbook.

While this book is not dedicated to any specific person, we wish to express our regrets at the loss of two great men who have done many things for Denison in the years in which they have been here, Dr. Kenneth I. Brown and Dr. Forbes B. Wiley. We wish them the best of luck in all that they do and hope that they will find many times in which they will have occasion to return to Denison.

A final word of thanks, maybe a shout of thanks, should be given to Jane Wonders, Carol Rogers, Jo Davis, and Marilyn Stone, without whose help this book would still be but a pile of papers on somebody's desk. It has been a pleasure to compile this Adytum. We hope that you like it.

This year Glen Seils was president of the Band, ond Tommy Willioms was the student leader.

The Geiger Twins

Denison will indeed miss the sparkling performances of Don and Doug Geiger. The baton twirling of the twins, with their intricate and mosterful demonstrations, again provided much entertainment to all who attended the football games and other school activities.

During their three years here at Denison, the Geiger twins hove brought national fome to both themselves and the school. Lost year they won the Notional Intercollegiote Twirling Contest which was held at Ann Arbor, Michigan. This feat was the pinnacle of three mognificent years here at Denison.

Praternities

Tradition plays a large and important part in every individual fraternity and sorority. Many times, however, in looking at a college one overlooks the many ways in which these groups enrich college life. The "Sweetheart Serenade" is just one of these traditions which helps to make Denison life a more pleasant one. Ingredients: a warm spring night, a boy and a girl, a fraternity and a sorority, plenty of flowers and songs, and romance.

The Interfraternity Council is composed of the president and a junior member and the faculty advisor of each of the men's social groups on campus. Here at Denison where the fraternities are such a vital part of our campus and social life, it is the purpose of the Interfraternity Council to govern the activities and relations of the fraternities and promote the friendly interfraternity spirit that exists among the groups. This organization cooperates with the administration in all problems which affect the fraternities as a group. In the past year, the Council, as an additional project, supported the Foster Parents plan in Europe. Some of the main fraternity social functions are set by this Council. The officers this year were: Jack O'Hara, president; Bruce Hance, vice-president; Jim Kridler, secretary; and Dave Taylor, treasurer. Dean Bayley is the Council's faculty advisor.

The Denison Panhellenic Council endeavors to maintain on a high plane fraternity life and interfraternity relations within our college. This is done by stressing further fine intellectual accomplishment and sound scholarship through cooperation with the college administration in the maintenance of high social standards and through cooperation with a friendly spirit with the various social groups represented on the campus. The Council acts as a forum for the discussion of questions of interest in the college and fraternity world. It acts as a governing body for all aspects of fraternal activity, compiling and enforcing rules governing rushing, pledging, and initiation on this campus. The Council is the center of all sorority events and sorority functions which involve all-sorority participation, such as the yearly Panhellenic dances. The Denison Panhellenic Council has also adopted a little Greek girl, contributing to her support and communicating with her through the Foster Parents plan for war children.

The Denison Panhellenic Council is comprised of its president, the Dean of Women, and three delegates—one alumna, one senior, and one junior—from each of the national Greek letter fraternities for women and from Shepardson Club. The officers for the year were: Barbara Drew, president; Connie Barone, vice-president; Betty Miller, secretary; and Helen Collins, treasurer.

sigma chi

Sigma Chi was founded in 1855 at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and Mu chapter was founded at Denison in 1868.

Once again the Sigs were well represented on the varsity football squad with 13 men claiming membership on the Big Red eleven. "Bullet-Bill" Fleitz (All-Ohio Conference for three years), Bruce "Bruno" Hance, regular center, and Jim Steckle turned in their last season.

Next in the sports lineup was basketball. An improved season saw captain Bill "Pete" Ullman filling the center position with Bob Wright and Bob Laven lettering at forward and guard posts,

The unfinished baseball season finds veteran Dick Cameron and newcomer Kent Taylor holding down starting berths. Denison's stellar tennis squad has as its number one man Jack Webb, junior veteran. Newcomer Chuck Gleason saw action during the season. Mu's representative on the varsity track team was Tod Heyman.

The intramural race has occupied considerable attention with the Cross-bearers resting 8½ points in first place at the spring sports post. With softball, golf, volleyball, and track unaccounted for, the Men of Mu are looking forward to their fifth IM championship in six years.

The Sigs did well in extra-curricular activities with several holding key positions in a variety of fields. These included Jim Steckle, retiring copresident of D.C.G.A.; Bruce Hance, vice-president of Interfraternity Council; Jim Richards,

beta theta pi

Soon after the close of the Civil War a boxing club was formed by several men who were attending Denison University at Granville, Ohio. Boxing clubs have lived, flourished, and died in many a college without altering the course of human history or being accounted worthy of any special mention. But this one of 1866, while short lived, was the foundation of Alpha Eta and Beta Theta Pi. The little boxing club soon became a local fraternity, Kappa Phi Lambda, and in 1868 became a chapter of Beta Theta Pi.

The first real chapter house was located on the site of the present Parson Hall. On January 17, 1903 this house was ravaged by fire and completely destroyed. To this day when January 17 rolls around the chapter has a special dinner in memory of the fire. By the next year a new house had been erected on the same site. In fact, what is now Parson Hall was at one time Alpha Eta's Home.

The present chapter house was started in December, 1925. It was built largely through the loyalty and efforts of Colonel and Mrs. Edward Deeds, and to this day is one of the best examples of a modern fraternity home.

Alpha Eta has always been built on the tradition that there is hardly a year goes by that something new isn't added. Among the more notable traditions of later years are the Military Ball and the Christmas Serenade.

Although we are losing an exceptionally fine group of seniors this year the future is in good hands. Officers for next year are: Warren Morse, president; Donald Watkins, vice-president; Hershol Boyer, recorder; and Bob Bosley, treasurer.

A chapter based on tradition but never static. Alpha Eta of Beta Theta Pi closes another school year with sights set for the future.

phi gamma delta

Phi Gamma Delta was founded an April 28, 1848, at Jeffersan College, naw Washingtan and Jeffersan, Canansburg, Pennsylvania. Since that day the fraternity has expanded to seventy-nine chapters and has over 40,000 members. It was an a spring evening in 1884 that Eugene A. Mead, '87, who may be considered the father of Lambda Deuteran, canceived the idea of farming an arganization to petition a national fraternity for a charter. Plans were made in the ald college cemetery at the manument of Jonathan Gaing, a farmer president of the university. Under the caver of night, pledges were sworn to success of the project, which made it possible for Lambda Deuteron to become one of Phi Gamma Delta's stalwart chapters.

The backbone of most successful organizations is braced by its traditions, for it is through such traditions that a link of friendship and familiarity can be found not only between the brothers of the present, but also between those of the past and the present. One of our most treasured traditions is the annual Norris Pig Dinner, the first of which was held at the University of California in 1893. It originated when a Figi orator at the Class Day exercises took occasion to rap two rival fraternities for their monopoly of the alee club during the year. To illustrate the point, there was brought to the platform a barrel labeled "U. of C. Glee Club," tied with a cord symbolic of the strangle hold established by these two rival fraternities. Out of this barrel tumbled a squealing pig. Some say the pig escaped and was pursued by several Fijis with murderous intent. The pig ended up that night in the Fiji stronghold where it was roasted for a feast, while Frank Norris, the American Author, staged an elaborate ceremony worthy of the burnt offering. Every member present was then called on to renew his bond of allegiance and fidelity, and to seal the vow by solemnly kissing the pig's snout.

It is traditions such as this that make fraternity life what it is. There is the nickname "Fiji", the restricted use of insignia and jewelry, our Founder's Day ceremony on May 1, the annual Fiji Island Grass-skirt dances, songs and serenades, fraternity awards, the official flower, and many others. The traditions of our chapter are both meaningful and heartwarming, and they all aid us in remembering the truth of the motto, "Friendship, the sweetest influence."

It was the natural out-growth of a European society which was originated at the University of Bologna, Italy, in 1400, five hundred long years before being transplanted to American soil. Since then, the fraternity has expanded to 121 chapters, with over 62,000 members. Gamma Xi was founded in 1911, and became the fourth national fraternity on the Denison campus.

Gamma Xi has taken an active part in campus life this past year, and members have been

To lead Big Red cheers were George Bergquist and Dave Rounds.

On the basketball hardwood, Tom Miner, Jim McFarland, Jim Moore, and Ed Huenerfauth represented the chapter, while Dick Ellis, Bill Gleason, Art Klack, Buzz Everett, and Don Alt found the baseball diamond more to their liking. Dick Elliott, Irv Harlamert, and Ken Bassett ran the Denison cinder, and in newly-founded lacrosse, Dick Bonesteel, George Bergquist, Jim Kornmesser, Jack Ubersax, and Rog Johnson saw action.

On the rolls of the honor societies are found the names of many more Kappa Sigs. Sporting Phi Beta Kappa keys are Lu Smith and Dave Fischbach. ODK men are Jack O'Hara, Lu Smith, Hahs Hunt, and Doug Brooks. Strong in the theatre, our men tapped for the University Players were Fred Bogaert, Frank Cover, Don Wilde, and Dave Rounds. Picked for Blue Key were Doug Brooks, Dave Rounds, Bill Winship, Don Wilde, Hahs Hunt, Lu Smith, and Jack O'Hara, all being led by Frank Cover, president of the honorary.

Socially speaking, the fall, winter, and spring formals were the highlights of the year, with the "White House" ablaze with many other parties throughout the year.

To our graduating seniors Gamma Xi says "Best Wishes," and hopes that we can maintain the standard of excellence that they have established.

Bob Johnson and Bill Rownd continually scored points for Livy's track team. Bill Austin was a member of the successful varsity golf team for the year. In intramurals, Phi Delta Theta ranked high by placing first in golf for the fourth straight year, and first in the "A" league basketball race.

Scholastically Phi Delta Theta ranked first among all the academic fraternities on the campus.

On the rolls of the honoraries, Phi Delts were also conspicuous. Bob Phillips was presented with a coveted Phi Beta Kappa key. Members of Omicron Delta Kappa included Bob Phillips, vice-president, Dan McIntire, and Dave Taylor, who was also elected vice-president of Blue Key. Other Phi Delts tapped for Blue Key were Dan McIntire, president, Bob Phillips, Dick Guster, and Don Fellabaum.

On the school publications, Phi Delta Theta was also well represented. Dave Taylor was this year's editor of the Adytum, while another Phi Delt, Bill Austin, will pilot the yearbook next year. The Denisonian had Victor Shroyer as sports editor.

This year's social program was also a great success. In the spring, the first pledge class of She Delta Theta was initiated. A bang-up dance followed the initiation. Everyone agreed that this was the highlight of the Denison social calendar. As usual, there was the open house for all the new sorority initiates. Other social functions included the all school formals, open houses, and evening dinners for each of the sororities.

With sincerest best wishes to our twenty-two graduating seniors, we dedicate this article. "We are brothers all united, ever loyal Phis."

The Denison chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity came into existence in 1919 as an outgrowth of the Sycamore Club founded ten years previously. For over 25 years thereafter the group occupied the spacious ranch house on West Broadway and developed the traditions of good fraternity life which still prevail. About every other year the chapters at Ohio State and Denison hold the Inter-Zeta Day, at which competition is held in various spring activities on a convenient Saturday, and at which a dance or similar form of entertainment fills the evening. A month or so earlier, at initiation time, the annual award for the outstanding pledge of the year is given. In addition, for the past two seasons, a cup has been established to recognize the pledge who has contributed most to athletics during his pledgeship.

The bi-annual election of the Gamma-lota candidate for national sweetheart of Lambda Chi resulted in the nomination of Marilynn Mead, '53.

Twelve brothers are in evidence on the Denison faculty. They are: charter members—Burt Hodges, Dick Howe, Al Johnson, and Eri Shumaker, old members—George Morgan, Clark Morrow, and Bob Robbins, and recent initiates—Bruce Grossman, Bob John, Arthur Lindsey, Gail Norris, and Sam Wheeler.

The active chapter consists of 55 men. The most outstanding of these in contribution to extracurricular activities are: Ralph Gilbert, '50, editor of Campus, chairman of May Day, and member of ODK and IFC... Gordon Nethercut, '50, co-chairman of the Committee of 100, member of DCEP cabinet, and four-year participant in band... homes and actively support the chapter at alumni gatherings and chapter functions. The alumni program has grown extensively in the last few years, and the turnout of alums for Founders' Day, initiation, and the annual summer pilgrimage has been large.

This year's social program was highlighted by a weekend party which centered around the general theme of a medieval castle. The house was transformed, and the actives and pledges, dressed in armor, visited the women's dorms where trumpet fanfare and drum rolls heralded the beginning of the festivities. The party was held on a Friday night, and at midnight the men moved out and the women took over. The next day the men returned and had breakfast with their dates, and in the afternoon the activities were ended with a picnic.

Many S.A.E.'s have become prominent in campus activities. These include Larry Crocker, co-president of D.C.G.A., Don Knudson, president of Auto Court, Jim Walkenspaw, letterman in basketball, and Don Sharp, miler and two-miler on the track team. Bill Bentsen was a prominent figure in the Sailing Club, and Ed Baker held down the quarterback spot on the freshman football team.

In the intramural program the chapter, under the guidance of Bob Kost, improved considerably over the previous year's performance. After a shaky start in football and basketball, S.A.E. bounced back to take third in swimming and second in wrestling. At present they are leading the volleyball tournament with the season half finished, and appear to be a threat in softball as the season starts.

In 1858 the Williams chapter together with the other chapters subsequently formed, voted to adopt the present Delta Upsilon pin and the motto, "Justice Our Foundation." From this beginning Delta Upsilon has grown to its present size of sixty-nine chapters, sixty alumni chapters, and a total of 29,000 members.

The local chapter was organized as a colony of Delta Upsilon on January 18, 1949, and has the dual distinction of being both the first chapter so organized by Delta Upsilon and the oldest national fraternity represented on the Denison campus. The Colony was formed at the invitation of Denison University in view of the need felt for another fraternity on the growing campus. In the organization of the Colony, Ohio State University chapter of Delta Upsilon and the Delta Upsilon alumni in the Columbus area played a most important part. On the Denison campus there was only one student who was already a member of Delta Upsilon, Ed Hill, who had transferred from Marietta College in the fall of 1949. To him and to those students on campus first associated with the Colony, fell the task of organizing the new group. The Colony was installed as a chapter of Delta Upsilon on December 3, 1949. The chapter's advisors are Dr. Kenneth Brown, Rochester, '18, Dr. Tristram P. Coffin, Coach Merlin Eikenberry, and Professor Irving E. Mitchell. The latter three men were initiated at the December 3 ceremony.

There are 34 members of Delta Upsilon, which include six graduating seniors, four juniors, eleven sophomores, and thirteen freshmen. Bob Fleming is a member of Pi Sigma Alpha and Jack Lawson is the first-string pitcher on the Big Red baseball team. D. U. is represented in Phi Mu Al-

Bob Wilson and Don Hodgson are members of Franco-Calliopean Society, and Dave Judy, Dave Chaney, and Bill Osborn belong to University Players. Don Hodgson was feature editor of Campus magazine during the past year.

A $25,000 housing plant, located on Burg Street, beyond Curtis Hall, is scheduled to be built during the summer of 1950. This will be the social and living quarters for the fraternity for the next few years and will house twenty-six men.

The first pledge class of Denison chapter of Delta Upsilon had the distinction of winning the annual Inter-fraternity pledge sing in February.

The chapter has made great strides in its first full year on the campus and under the able leadership of Hal Stone, next year's president, it hopes to make even greater progress.

The Chi O's held open houses for several of the fraternities and sororities and entertained the faculty this spring. Dads' Day and Mothers' Day Banquets were on the social calendar also, plus Homecoming, at which time the Chi O's placed second with house decorations.

This spring the chapter attended the Spring Eleusinian Festival, honoring Founder's Day. The banquet was held in Columbus at the Hotel Fort Hayes with the Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan, and Denison chapters participating.

kappa alpha theta

Kappa Alpha Theta, the first women's Greek letter fraternity, was founded at Asbury College (now DePauw) in Greencastle, Indiana, on January 27, 1870. Denison's Beta Tau chapter was previously Chi Psi Delta, a local sorority founded at Gilpatrick House in 1900, and it was welcomed into Kappa Alpha Theta in June, 1929.

traditions, both national and local. Among them are our annual Christmas party, at which gifts are given to the house, the alumnae farewell dinner for the seniors, and Mothers' and Dads' Day banquets, and breakfasts the following morning, the showers for future brides, our Sweetheart Pillow which bears the names of all the pinned and engaged couples, and our pin which is handed down to each succeeding chapter president.

One of our most interesting national projects is the support of the Institute of Logopedics in Wichita, Kansas, for the study and correction of all types of speech defects.

As a local service project we have adopted Herman Akkerman, a little Dutch boy. We help support Herman through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, and we carry on a regular correspondence with him.

In addition to the social service projects, the Thetas have been active in campus activities. Peg Weber, Betty Lou McCarthy (vice-president), Jane Scott (secretary), and Jiggers Offenheiser were members of Mortar Board, and Lucy Cov-

Lynn Olwin reigned as Queen of the Winter Carnival. Phyl Condit had the lead in "The Merry Widow." Peg Weber acted as co-chairman of DCEP, while Sally Brown, Betty Lou McCarthy, Molly Jones, and Lucy Covington were co-chairmen of Deni-Service, Deni-Sunday, Christian Emphasis Week, and the Bonds of Friendship Drive, respectively. For our Homecoming decorations for the game against Wooster, we won first place.

Aside from the usual socializing with other sororities, entertaining fraternities was added to the year's social calendar, and with much success. Among the year's other social events were a Box Supper, Western Party, our annual party for the football team, and the usual Pan-Hell formal and informal dances. The yearly parties for the pledges were given by each class, as well as many chapter suppers.

delta delta delta

Tri Delta and traditions . . . what do these two terms mean? The term, Tri Delta, symbolizes a group of girls bound together in loyalty and common aims. The term, traditions, then, symbolizes the groundwork on which the group is based and from which its members work to form their goals and ideals. If this be so, Tri Delta claims as its most cherished tradition the phrase, "Let Us Steadfastly Love One Another." It is from this groundwork that spring all the more tangible traditions . . . those things known and loved year after year, but which would never have found life had it not been for the basic formula.

Tri Delta honors her founders each year by a Senior and a Freshman of a theme on "What dinner, the climax of which is the presentation by a Senior and a Freshman of a theme on "What Tri Delta Means To Me."

Another traditional banquet is held just before initiation, attended by the Big and Little Sisters. It is at this time that the pledges present decorated paddles to their sponsors.

A tradition of which Tri Delta is proud is her National Scholarship fund which was established in 1942. Its help is available to any worthy woman student, regardless of affiliation, on any campus having a Tri Delt chapter.

Sometime following the announcement of mid-term grades comes the annual Scholarship Banquet. Jo Williams, Scholarship Chairman, announced to a justly-proud chapter that its accumulative grade average this year stands at a nice 2.9.

Another Tri Delta tradition is her yearly social project which for two years has been to entertain inhabitants of the Licking County Old Folks' Home. It's hard to judge which group has received more entertainment through the trips—the old folks, or the Tri Delts. Connie Hutchings has been masterful in her job of filling the new DCEP station wagon to the brim with Tri Deltas for the bi-monthly sojourn to the home.

On the subject of outstanding personages, it is well to toss a bouquet to Marilyn Crosby who is the newly-elected co-president of DCGA. She was also honored by election into Mortar Board from which Lois Anderson, past president, is retiring. Beverly Brown has been elected into the Junior Honorary, Crossed Keys.

Tri Delta has other representatives of DCGA in the persons of Helen Davis whose position as chairman of the Student Union Committee is being taken over by Libby Ormond. Dorothy Wischhusen was co-Chairman of Homecoming, Jean Cassidy was co-Chairman of the Bonds of Friendship Drive, and Marilyn Stone was co-Chairman of May Day.

A large bouquet goes to Lynn Collins who reigned over the Sig Derby as the new Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. And, a vote of praise is extended to Ginny Vernon for her work as co-author and participant in her radio program for children heard over WCLT.

Appropriate for the close of this dissertation is the last tradition of the year . . . the Pansy Breakfast is an annual, sentimental event of Tri Delta. It is at this breakfast, held early in June, that the chapter bids farewell to their graduating Seniors. This year, the Seniors can leave looking back on a very eventful and satisfying year, and the chapter can look ahead to more of the same.

kappa kappa gamma

A secret local sorority, Kappa Phi, was formed by six girls on this campus in the fall of 1898, but it wasn't until 1929 that national sororities were allowed on the campus by Denison trustees. Thus, in December, 1929, after petitioning to national, Kappa Phi became Gamma Omega of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Through the years the spirit of these six girls has been kept alive by the continuance of traditions passed down from one class to another.

The large gold president's key, which was given to our chapter when it went national by Delta chapter of Indiana University, was proudly worn this year by Marilyn McCuskey.

Outstanding personal recognition has been gained by many members of our chapter through the year. Phyl Campbell was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, while Nancy Kniffin was elected co-president of D.C.G.A. Our Mortar Board members for the last year were Nancy Kniffin and Marilyn McCuskey, while Nancy Baldwin, Kathleen Kalbfleisch, and Joan Widdowson were tapped this spring. Our members of Crossed Keys last year were Nancy Baldwin, Dona Basler, Kathleen Kalbfleisch, and Joan Widdowson; and Jean Dungan, Joan Pease, and Helen Wigginton are our new members.

In the beauty department, Wendy Watters was elected Homecoming Queen, while Kay Dodge was on the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi court and Peggy Schairer was on the Winter Carnival

This spring, the underclass members gave the traditional senior picnic. During this annual party presents were given from the chapter to engaged girls, a few tears were shed, and a lot of fun was had by all.

The Children's Home in Newark sees a lot of the Kappas. For our social service project each girl from the chapter has a little brother or sister whom she entertains during the year. The "entertainment" ranges from "just talking" to football games and Roy Rogers movies. The chapter also gives seasonal parties for the children and in many other ways try to become real friends.

Part of our fun during the week is entertaining various fraternities on Sunday afternoon. Social activities also include formals, Mother and Fathers' Day banquets, and Homecoming festivities. Besides these, the chapter gets together often for "Koffee Klaches," sometimes with faculty members and other sororities.

The pledge project this year was a pancake breakfast to earn money for the new house. Pancakes and coffee were the order of the day from ten until one with as much of either as one wanted.

Our house, the first on campus to be built and used as a sorority house, has meant much to both Kappa Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma. However, a new house for the Kappas now looms in the not too distant future. Until that time, our wee house is still "a mansion to me 'cause it's filled with the spirit of K.K.G.

alpha phi

Traditions play a large part in any group. These are the threads which bind the past and present members together. Such customs do a great deal to carry a feeling of unity down through the years.

One of these customs which Alpha Phi has passed down for over twenty-five years is its annual Old English Dinner. At first this party was held in the sorority house, beautifully decorated with pine boughs and large stained glass windows. To add to the festive atmosphere, the waiters even dressed in costume. When the group grew too large to dine at the house, they moved down to the Granville Inn for the dinner. The little porker is always brought in by Otto with great pomp to the chant of "Here comes the pig all dressed up in his Alpha Phi rig." Then the youngest pledge recites an original poem about Alpha Phi and ceremoniously kisses the pig's tail. Following the dinner, the girls and their escorts return to the house for dancing.

This house contains another of Alpha Phi's traditions—its balcony. Many a Beta Kappa Alpha Phi has been married in Granville and had her reception at the house so that she, too, might join her many sisters who before her had thrown their bouquets from the Alpha Phi balcony. They have even honored this traditional part of their house with their song "Neath our Balcony."

One of the sorority's symbols is the ivy leaf

One of the sorority's symbols is the ivy leaf and it is the custom of the chapter to have its front lawn planted with ivy which gives a distinctive touch to the house.

The present chapter of Beta Kappa did very well in upholding the tradition of scholarship. Last year they won the Alpha Phi District Scholarship Cup for their outstanding grades. One of the members who did a great deal to help them achieve this goal was Nancy Lee Echols. More than a member of Mortar Board and Phi Beta Kappa, Nancy Lee won the International Rotary Scholarship for her outstanding achievements. This entitles her to continue her study anywhere in the world for a year with all expenses paid. The honor was all the greater because she was the second woman ever to be selected for this award.

Every year the member of the pledge class having the highest grades receives a gold pledge pin. Last year this traditional honor was won by Patricia Wade for her achievement of all A's.

There are a number of other members to whom recognition is due for their accomplishments. Those elected to Phi Beta Kappa were Harriet Hawes and Mary Langan. Mary Ellen Fischbach was selected for Mortar Board. Mary Bailey and Jeanne Kingery were among the new members of Crossed Keys. Marilyn Wheeler was elected Orchesis president and Jean Ripple was chosen a Junior Advisor.

Alpha Phi has endeavored to promote the friendly spirit which prevails among the sororities and to uphold the traditions of both the school and the chapter.

On January 2, 1897, four girls, students at Barnard College of Columbia University in New York, founded Alpha Omicron Pi. In 1926, the local chapter of Alpha Tau Delta was founded; in 1927, it received a charter from the university. The thirteen founders of the local group held their meeting in Beaver Hall. In 1930 a charter was granted this local group to become a member of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Alpha Tau of Alpha Omicron Pi will be twenty years old in the fall. During the chapter's existence on Denison's campus, many traditions have been established, not only in the spirit of AOPi and her red rose, but in the spirit of the University. Philanthropic work and social service are one of the keystones of the spirit. Alpha Tau was extremely proud to receive at the National convention two years ago, the J.W.H. cup given for the most outstanding work of this type of all AOPi's many chapters. Alpha Tau is also very proud to have among its alumnae Dr. Mary Kirby Berry, whose work in Burma is aided through Denison's own Bonds of Friendship. Through Deni-Service, Alpha Taus are hoping to establish as a tradition their "Golden Ager's" project in Utica. This is a club of older people which the girls organized. Its purpose is to help these people, many of whose families and friends are gone, to find new interests in life.

While many Golden Ager groups are found in the larger cities, the project in Utica is the only one in a rural area in the United States.

Among other traditions, Alpha Tau each year holds a Founder's Day service at the house. This is a simple ceremony commemorating the beginnings of AOPi. The Scholarship Banquet held annually also proves to be lots of fun, especially for those with the higher grades. The Christmas party held for the benefit of the "Tuckies", nickname of the Social Service Department of the Frontier Nursing Service of Kentucky, which APOi supports on a national scale, is another annual affair.

Tradition in the form of the chapter president's ring was continued when Jo Johnson passed it on to Jane Wonders. Another ring, a gift of the Newark-Granville alum group, was presented to Jackie Sovulewiski for being the outstanding pledge of the year. This ring is traditionally worn during the recipient's Sophomore year.

Alpha Tau's pledge class of 26 has much to look up to with Mortar Board's Jane Wonders and Doris Heller setting the example. Both of these girls were Junior Advisors this past year. Doris Heller is the new president of Masquers and of University Players. Other Players include Merylen Miller, Doree Ernst, and Marion Case. Apart from theater work, Doree Ernst is vice-president of D.C.G.A. and on numerous committees. The sophomore class of the past year claims Addie Burroughs as its representative in Crossed Keys while Claire Warlow has been elected as Junior Advisor.

delta gamma

After the excitement of pledging, the Delta Gammas "diligently" prepared to welcome the alums for Homecoming and plan the traditional Father's Day luncheon—decide the increase in size of the pledge classes which made seating arrangements even more difficult than previously!

Open houses for the football team, fraternities, and sororities, and the pledge and Panhell dances were on the agenda as usual. The house Christmas party, scholarship banquet (at which Jo Beltz won the plaque for the most improvement), and the Senior breakfast rounded out the year's social program.

After the traditional "surprise" initiation, there was a banquet at which Miss Helen Barr and the province secretary spoke. Kay Watson was awarded the ring for being the outstanding pledge. Then the recently pinned and engaged girls were required to skip around the tables as the girls serenaded them.

The new initiates found strings attached to their pins—after an untangling party, the girls all sported their own golden anchors.

Vivian Meckes supervised the seasonal spring house cleaning—all traces of the pledge formal Mardi Gras were finally removed. The Mother's Day party was well-handled—no remarks were made about "fifty odd mothers" this year!

Those tapped for honoraries were Marion Campbell and Margaret Titus for Mortar Board; Constance Ford, Barbara Southard, and Lucia Howarth for Crossed Keys; Constance Ford, Patricia Optekar, and Kathy Whitacre for University Players; Eloise Hill, Pi Delta Epsilon; Patricia Optekar, Franco-Calliopean; and Jacqueline Forry, Denison Women's Music Honorary.

Patricia Brown, Constance Ford, and Barbara Southard were chosen Junior Advisors—following the steps of Marion Campbell, Lee Lanning, and Helen Thornhill, this year's advisors.

shepardson club

Shepardson Club was founded in 1920 as an organization for independent women unaffiliated with any Greek letter sorority. In thirty years it has grown in membership and in activity, and just last year received full membership in Panhellenic Council.

A tradition in Shepardson Club has been the achievement of high scholastic honors. For several years the Club has held top place with highest academic average among the women's social groups.

Two of our girls have been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, they are: Phyllis Wymann and Mary Louise Harvey. Also two were elected to Mortar Board: Charlotte Alber and Florence Borgman.

Helen Carpenter, our former president, was selected to go to Europe and study under the Fullbright scholarship. Helen is now at Cambridge in England.

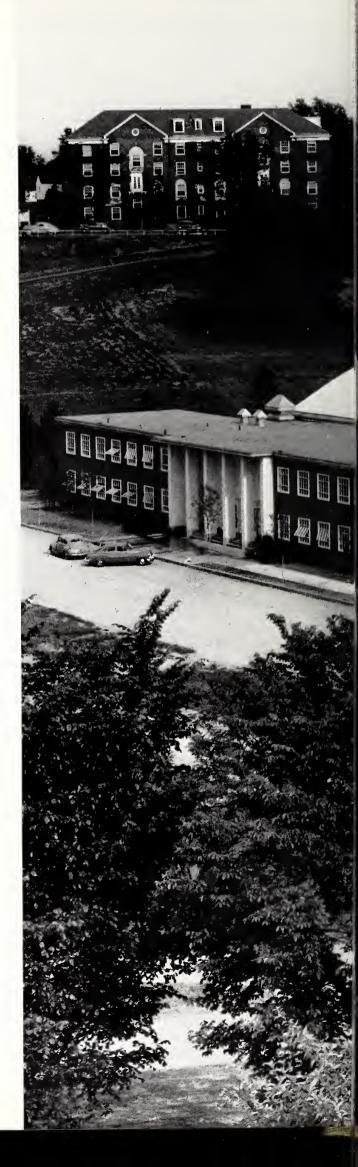

The officers for the year include Florence Borgmann, president; Marilou Taggart, vice-president; Dorothy Camp, treasurer; Monabelle Haynes, recording secretary.

Under the guidance of Mr. Walter J.
Livingston, Denison has had a long tradition of successful athletics. This year marks the completion of another milestone in the athletic program. Just south of Deed's Field, now lies a magnificent new field house. This building will house the Physical Education Department and provide Denison with more than adequate facilities for all types of athletics. As a student body we are very grateful for the new field house and for the leadership of "Livy."

a Denison dream come true ...

Back in 1924 a "temporary structure" called the Wigwam was completed. This building was to serve as a field house until something better could be erected. (five years at the most). At last only twenty-six years later something better has been erected. Thanks to thousands of alumni, students and friends of Denison, a beautiful new field house now stands east of Deed's field. In a year's time this new building has risen, putting Denison facilities for athletics far out in front of most Ohio Conference schools.

The new field house and Community Center had to have a name. Some liked "Center" as a name but some didn't, so a contest was held. When all the results were in and the judges finished pondering their decision a young lady by the name of Sondra Matkowsky found herself in the money and the new field house found itself with a name; Bigwam.

Replacing Woody Hayes and Rix Yard as one-two on the coaching staff were ex-Denisonian Jack Carl and his assistant, Merlin "Ike" Eikenberry. Mr. Carl came to Denison from Hanover where in two years his teams compiled an impressive 13 win, 3 loss record. Under his guidance at Denison the Big Red ended the season with a five win, three loss record.

"Ike" came to Denison from Dayton Oakwood where he was basketball coach. At Denison he is assistant football coach as well as head basketball coach. This year's basketball team under his guidance finished its best season in three years.

Bob Phillips, co-coptain and quarterback of the Big Red eleven, was ane of the smoothest ball handlers in the Conference. His deception and timing mode Denison's T the effective machine that it was.

WASHINGTON & JEFFERSON 7-15

The Presidents of Washington & Jefferson spoiled the Big Red's opening game and halted our winning streak at 18. The Denison line managed to completely stop "Deacon" Dan Towler, W. & J.'s fabulous fullback, but faulty pass defense proved to be the Big Red's downfall.

CAPITOL 43-13

A much improved Big Red squad bounced back from the W. & J. licking to completely outclass the hard-fighting Lutherans of Capitol University. Held to a stand still in the first half, the Carlmen came back to tally five touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters.

OTTERBEIN 19-0

A fourth quarter rally, sparked by "Bullet Bill" Fleitz, turned a tight ball game into the Big Red's second win on the comeback trail. Improved pass defense and a new spirit among the players gave Denison's boosters something to cheer about, but it seemed that we were still getting more than our share of the bad breaks.

WOOSTER 20-21

Homecoming festivities were soured by the upset defeat handed the Big Red by the Scots of Wooster. Sloppy ball handling and mental lapses on the part of the secondary proved to be the difference in this wild game.

OBERLIN 53-7

A red-hot D. U. squad humbled the Yeomen of Oberlin, as Bill Fleitz took the opening kick-off and bulled his way 95 yards for a touchdown and Duane Patterson, veteran guard, scored two touchdowns on pass interception.

MUSKINGUM 12-14

The gridmen almost pulled the upset of the year against our bitter rivals from the south. The team, again led by the brilliant play of Bill Fleitz, fought the powerful Muskies on even ground only to lose in the closing minutes.

Name the position and ca-captain Jahnsan has played it. Chuck has been back, center, guard, and end and has played all equally well. A sixty minute man in mast games, Chuck well deserves the credit given him.

The name Willie Hart is synonamaus with Denisan Big Red and undefeated seasons. Willie is just about "all everything." In his three years af varsity ball he has been named All Ohia Canference, All Ohia, and Little All-American.

WITTENBERG 13-7

The underdog Tigers from Wittenberg thrilled a Dad's Day crowd by turning what was supposed to be a "warm-up" game for Case into a real battle. The Big Red, after trailing most of the way, pulled the game out of the fire in the closing minutes.

CASE 13-7

The Carlmen ended the season on a high note by trouncing the flashy Rough Riders, as Co-Captain Bob Phillips threw two touchdown passes and kicked the extra point.

The '49-'50 basketball season opened with Denison putting on the floor the youngest team in recent years. The starting line up consisted of four sophomores and a senior with the number six and seven men also sophomores. Coach Eikenberry, embarking on his initial experience as mentor for the Bid Red Cagers, had a difficult time getting his young team into winning form. The early portion of the season was full of disappointment as the Big Red was unable to find a winning combination. As the season progressed, the team gained some of the badly needed experience they were lacking and were finally able to push into the winning column.

Particularly pleasing to watch was the development of Captain Pete Ullman and Kent Savage. Pete, as pivot man, had difficulty with timing and couldn't seem to find the basket. As the season progressed, Pete under the guidance of Ike blossomed forth into one of the better centers of the Ohio Conference.

Kent Savage, one of the four Sophomore starters, played sensational ball during the entire season. His fast breaking speed and accurate eye enabled him to become the team's high scorer and also earned for him a place on the All Ohio Conference team.

Hampered by the lack of proper facilities, the Eikenberry-coached ball team never really had a chance to show their stuff. "Ike" was able to field a veteran team with John Dunkel on 1st, Bob Cone at 2nd, Jud Hay at short-stop, Kent Taylor on 3rd, Dick Cameron, Dave Sherman, and Bob Sepessy in the outfield, Jim Mason behind the plate, and Jack Lawson, Willie Hart, and "Zeke" Ellis on the mound.

Heidelberg's Charley Eichenberger and Denison's Bab Shannan battle it aut aver the high hurdles.

This year's Big Red track team ended the season with a four win, three loss record. While the season as a whole was not marked by outstanding team work there were, however, some individual performances that were outstanding.

Outstanding on the hurdles was Robby Shannon who was continually the team's high point man. Dick Kull was particularly strong on the discus, being beaten only by the conference champion. Dick's best throw of 131 feet was only one foot short of the Denison record. Another outstanding performer was Don Sharp who was consistently capturing the mile and two mile honors.

The D. U. netmen had one of the finest records in the conference, as they won all but one of their matches. The squad was led by Jack Webb, one of the best singles men in the state, and he was ably supported by Bob Phillips, Bob Bridge, Jack McConnaughey, Chuck Gleason, and Arch Mirrielees. The team profited greatly from the excellent tutelege of newcomer Tris Coffin. Next year the netters will be even stronger as Webb and Mirrielees return and freshmen Bill Keeley, "Blitz" Krieger, Don Mirrielees, and Don Gillies become eligible for varsity competition.

The Big Red golfers, coached by Edson Rupp, had another fine season. Bill Patrick, conference medallist in 1949, was back in the number one position and he again played excellent golf. Veterans Bill Deedrick and Herschel Bowyer, along with Sophomore star Bill Austin, rounded out a well-balanced team that consistently shot sub-par golf. After losing only two matches during the season, the linksmen got a creditable fifth place in the conference meet.

Intramurals...

FOOTBALL

The powerful Sig seven snapped back after losing their first game to a surprisingly strong Lambda Chi team to roll over all other opponents and capture the I. M. football crown.

TENNIS

The Beta duo of Jack McConnaughy and "Blitz" Kreiger swept through the nine-game schedule undefeated to nose out the strong Lambda Chi team for the championship.

GOLF

An exceptionally good Phi Delt golf team comprised of Joe Buder and Paul Van Nostran had no difficulty in out-shooting the other contenders for top honors. Charlie Spross and Bill Zweier, members of the Phi Gam team, finished second.

BASKETBALL

"A" League

In the "A" League it was a close race all season between the Independents, Betas, and Phi Delts. In the play-offs, the Phi Delts came out victorious, beating the Betas for the championship.

"B" League

"B" League honors went to a strong Sig team that was followed at a safe distance by the Betas, Kappa Sigs, Lambda Chis, and Phi Gams.

HANDBALL, TABLE TENNIS AND SWIMMING

Sigma Chi had the monopoly on handball, table tennis, and swimming, their only competition in all three coming from the Betas. Dan Mc-Ginnis sparked both the handball and table tennis teams as he has done in past years. The members of the swimming team placed first in all six events which they entered to walk away with the meet. Members of the Sig swimming team were Bob Overstreet, Hank Stout, Joe Coulter, Bob Keaney, and Chuck Gleason.

WRESTLING

The return of wrestling as an intramural sport found the Betas swamping the other fraternities, as they scored 40 points to the runner-up Sig Alphs 18 and the third-place Kappa Sigs 14. The individual champions were Lowell Johnson, 135 pounds; Bill Isaly, 145 pounds; Fred Meyer, 155 pounds; Al Boyd, 165 pounds; Carl Murray, 175 pounds; and Don Soukup, heavyweight.

VOLLEYBALL

A powerful S.A.E. team led by big Jim Walkenspaw took the championship as they lost only to the second place Phi Gams. The Sigs and Kappa Sigs played the role of "spoilers" as they knocked off the favored Fijis.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association endeavors to contribute to the extracurricular life of the college community through a social-recreative program of sports, informal outing activities, and all forms of the dance. The latter two areas are covered by two subsidiary organizations of WAA: Outing Club and Orchesis.

Meetings of the Association were held each month. A few of the program highlights were a demonstration of la crosse, hockey slides, class skits, and the annual Christmas party.

Women's Athletics

The WAA sports year is divided into three seasons during which time tournaments and interclass games are held in archery, badminton, baseball, basketball, bowling, golf, hockey, riding, swimming, tennis, track, volleyball and winter sports. Awards are made and class standings reported at a banquet held after each sport season. The class competition is culminated at the spring banquet when the winning class members are awarded with photographs of their class.

Other activities sponsored by WAA included the all-girl picnic in honor of the new freshmen women, held in September; the 19th annual Alumni-Denison hockey game at Homecoming; and the intercollegiate sports program.

As president school of the Ohio Women's Athletic Organization for the year, Denison held a very successful state convention in Granville on February 24-25.

The officers for the year were: Sue Kellogg, president; Marilyn Whisler, vice-president; Jane Scott, secretary; Carol Goodrich, treasurer; and Jane Fenwick, Custodian.

Denison in the news

Denison has been featured many times in the Chicago Tribune feature "Youth on the Campus." Again, this year, Denison was among those schools chosen. Shown above are some camera shy students and the Tribune photographer.

As Denison has her traditions, so does our nation. Among the many traditions of the United States is that of free enterprise. The many small shops and factories as well as the giants of industry, all make America great and strong, a tradition which we may all be thankful for.
